

BUCKLE UNBUCKLES BUT BOY WINS RACE

Cats Bouquet Aboard Liner Pittsburgh Despite Unruly Trousers

AND THEN HE GRINS

If the buckle at the knee of the small boy's trousers had not come unbuttoned as he dashed to the gangplank of the Pittsburgh a box of flowers would have reached one of the passengers in time for her to toss a small bunch above the bouquet as the boat left the wharf.

But the buckle unbuckled, and the small boy, of course, had to stop to fix it. It would be unthinkable to run, even to catch a boat, with the leg of one trouser at least two inches below the other one. So he put the flowers down and, after reasoning with the buckle, began his race with time against him. He managed to stand and panting and grinning, and then he watched the ship steam away.

Sailing from here at 10 o'clock this morning the Pittsburgh will leave Boston on July 29 for Queenstown and Liverpool, carrying 340 passengers.

The cabin booking of the Pittsburgh included Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Battles, Thomas H. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Boyer, Mrs. Helen M. Boyer, Mrs. Mary J. Brady, Miss Anna L. Bright, Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton Bowie, Mrs. F. M. Christy, Mrs. H. G. Carr, Miss Elizabeth J. Johnston, John Johnston, Miss Mary I. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kennedy, Miss Anna Kennedy, Dr. and Mrs. Fielding O. Lewis, Miss Molly Lewis, Mrs. G. A. Lyon, Rowland Lyon, Commander L. R. and Mrs. Leahy, Dr. and Mrs. Anthony McNelis, Miss Mary McNelis, Mrs. Winifred McDonald, Miss Elizabeth McDonald, Miss Elizabeth Ruggie, Miss William T. Ruggie, Miss Eleanor Ruggie, Miss Annie Ruggie, Dr. and Mrs. George C. Ross, Miss Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Pedro J. Salom, Miss Emma Salom, and Mrs. Albert W. Scholer, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spates, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stoughton, Mrs. Charles O. Taylor, Mrs. Charles E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, Dr. and Mrs. G. Wilmer Wirtz, Jr.

Those aboard the Mongolia sailing this afternoon are Mrs. Y. and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Yund and Harry Pfund, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Ropp, Julius G. Doerfl, Thomas McAnnell, 2d; Mrs. Julia Love, Mrs. Lizzie Ross, Mrs. August Beckmann, Thomas E. Fearon and Dr. Maximilian Roedman.

JACOB E. HYNEMAN LEAVES ESTATE VALUED AT $50,000

Eight Religious and Charitable Institutions to Benefit Under Will

Jacob E. Hyneinan, Civil War veteran, who died at the Union League, Saturday, left an estate valued at $50,000, part of which will eventually go to eight religious and charitable organizations.

Mr. Hyneinan had formerly been prominent in insurance circles in Philadelphia. He was president of the Signal Corps Association, which unit he joined in the Civil War, and vice president of the Veteran Corps of the Army of the Potomac.

His estate is divided by the terms of his will, probated today, into a number of small bequests and a number of annuities. Upon the death of the annuitants the estate will be distributed as follows:

The Rebecca Gratz House, $500, and $1000 each to the Mike Israel Congregation, Society to Protect Children from Cruelty, Philadelphia Home for Incurables, Salvation Army, Jewish Foster Home and Women's Hebrew Association. The residue will go to the Federation of Jewish Charities.

James Kitchen, of 440 Locust avenue, Germantown, who died July 19, at Atlantic City, left an estate valued at $200,000. In his will probated today he leaves all to his widow, Margaret A. Kitchen, his five children and a sister. He was head of a wool firm bearing his name at 9 Letitia street. Mr. Kitchen was seventy-seven years old and had been in business fifty years. The wills of Andrew Tolon, 1012 Fernon street, $10,200, and Andrew Zoell, 3418 North Eighth street, $7500, were also probated. Inventories were filed in the personal estates of Martha J. Dorova, $7775, and Ann Chestnut, $180,130.35.

FALLS OFF WAGON, DIES

Man Suffers Concussion of Brain in Street Accident

Falling from a produce wagon at Third and Dock streets, early this morning, J. Wittman, fifty years old, 2015 Ridge avenue, landed with such force that he died almost immediately.

The man was picked up by a passing automobile and taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where it was found he had received a concussion of the brain.

The two women were shot yesterday afternoon by William Smith, a seventy-four-year-old resident of the home a few hours before he was to have been taken to the Norrisstown Hospital for the insane. Several minutes later he shot himself in the breast and cut his throat, dying in the Presbyterian Hospital shortly after being admitted.

The man had been acting strangely lately and physicians said he was insane. It is believed the news of Smith's transfer to the Norrisstown institution reached his ears and infuriated the man. Smith drew a revolver in the dining room of the home while Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Wise were about to say grace before 130 men and women residents in the home.

Smith, who came from Cincinnati and had been at the home two years, is said to have a son who is a boxer.

VICTIMS OF AGED LUNATIC'S SHOTS ARE RECOVERING

Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Wise, of Presbyterian Home at Bala, Rally

The condition of Mrs. Lillian Pierce, superintendent of the Presbyterian Home for Aged Couples and Single Men at Bala, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wise, her assistant, are steadily improving at the Presbyterian Hospital.

The two women were shot yesterday afternoon by William Smith, a seventy-four-year-old resident of the home a few hours before he was to have been taken to the Norrisstown Hospital for the insane. Several minutes later he shot himself in the breast and cut his throat, dying in the Presbyterian Hospital shortly after being admitted.

USE OF MILK TAUGHT

Mothers at Playground Learn How to Prepare Foods

Mothers were shown how to make milk-shakes, junkies, creamed tomato soups and other dishes with a milk basis at a food demonstration in the Northern Liberties Playground, Sixth and Noble streets, yesterday afternoon. The demonstration, under the auspices of the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council, was conducted by Mrs. Louise Elmore Northrup, nutrition and cooking expert of the council.

A play, "Eating Milk," followed the food talk. The performers were eight small children coached by Miss Gertrude Munday, of the dramatic department of the Dairy Council. Dr. Hannah McK. Lyons, who is conducting health work at playgrounds, was in charge of the performance.

TO PROBE LEINIENCY

Cortelyou to Quiz Officials for Laxity in Pressing Charges

Director Cortelyou said today that he intends to investigate the case of James McKeown, freed by Magistrate Scott after, it is alleged, he and two companions held up and robbed the saloon of Bernard Gallagher, Grays Ferry avenue and Christian street, severely beating the proprietor.

The alleged hold-up occurred last Monday night. McKeown was the only one of the three arrested, and he was released on a copy of the charge. Then, according to the police, he turned himself with bottles and returned to the saloon and retaliated for his arrest by smashing all the plate glass windows in the place.

GIRL BITTEN BY PET DOG

Child Taken to Hospital and Animal Held for Observation

Ida Dirico, twelve years old, of 1638 Jesup street, was bitten several times last night by her own dog. The animal is believed to have been mad.

The child was pushed to the Mount Sinai Hospital by her parents, where it was said infection had already set in, the dog having sunk his teeth in her left arm in numerous places. After preventive measures were taken the girl was kept for further treatment. The dog was sent to the Pennsylvania Hospital for five days' observation.

HIS ROW WITH WARBURTON TRIFLING, NEEDL ASSERTS

"Told Director to His Face All I Intend to Say," He Declares

The indignation of Charles W. Needl, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, over Director Warburton's statement that he was called "sniff" has not diminished any, despite the fact that he has nothing further to say to the Welfare Director.

"I told Director Warburton to see me first if he intended to say about me," Mr. Needl said today. "The matter of the matter is that I consider the matter so trifling as hardly to be worth a second thought."

The row between the Director and Needl started over the discharge of a storekeeper at the House of Correction, Joseph Yannesska, who was discharged by Warburton, re-instated by the commission, and then discharged again by Warburton.

"The order stands," said Mr. Needl, "and the man will be paid for the time he has worked or he works or not. If Director Warburton wants to bring more specific charges against him, all right."

FIVE ARRESTED IN AUTO; THREE HAVE REVOLVERS

Patrolman Takes Them to Station Because They Look Suspicious

Loaded revolvers were found on three of five men arrested on suspicion in a motorcar at Lindenwood and Arch streets at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

Patrolman Schofield, of the Peach and Media streets station, saw three men in a parked automobile and two others on the sidewalk. He asked what they were doing and was told it was none of his business.

Schofield ordered the men on the sidewalk to get into the machine. Then he commanded the driver to proceed to the station house. There were some protests but all obeyed.

The men said they were Daniel Sadwar, forty-one years old, Arch street near Fifty-sixth; John Robinson, twenty-five, Arch street near Fifty-second; William Gaines, twenty-four, and Richard Gaines, thirty-two, Lea street near Fairmount avenue, and Joseph Walker, twenty-three, Seybert street near Thompson. Police say Sadwar, Richard Gaines and Walker had revolvers.

SNEAK THIEVES ACTIVE

Make Off With $150 in Clothing and $235 Worth of Jewelry

Sneak thieves entered the home of Oscar Epstein, 5043 Pine street, sometime yesterday and took clothing worth $150. In their haste to escape detection the robbers overlooked several valuable pieces of jewelry.

Police of the Fifty-fifth and Pine streets station were notified by Thomas Bowers, 5419 Cedar avenue, that jewelry valued at $235 was stolen from a bedroom in his home during his absence last night. The thieves gained entrance by climbing a rear fence and forcing a window.

U. OF P. MAN IS ADRIFT THREE DAYS UPON LAKE

Captain L. S. Spooner and Companions Finally Reach Shore Safely

Adrift in an open boat with a shattered mast, Captain L. S. Spooner, an assistant instructor in military tactics at the University of Pennsylvania, and two other military officers were in the shadow of death for nearly three days on Lake Ontario.

The men finally landed twelve miles from Fort Niagara, utterly exhausted.

The other officers who shared the narrow escape with Captain Spooner, are Captain J. A. Stiff, of Toronto, and Captain W. L. Walker, of Montreal.

The men started out on Saturday afternoon in a small boat equipped with an auxiliary engine.

As the sailboat showed signs of growing to pieces at any moment, the crew crept into the dory.

A friendly wind finally blew their way, and they managed to reach Niagara yesterday. They arrived exhausted, as their food and water ran out some time before they reached shore.

O'BRIEN SWORN IN

Former Newspaperman Takes Over Appraisers Job Today

Prominent State Republican leaders were present today when George O'Brien, a former newspaper man in this city, was sworn in as appraiser of merchandise of the port of Philadelphia. The ceremony took place in the office of A. Lincoln Acker, Collector of Port, who will administer the oath.

Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee; W. Harry Baker, chairman of the State Republican Committee, and Mrs. John J. O'Brien, former Mayor of More Haven, Fla., attended.

BABY DROWNS IN WASHTUB

Child Slips From Arms of His Six-Year-Old Sister

Chester, July 27. — Slipping from the arms of his six-year-old sister, thirteen months' old Peter Bartone fell in a washtub and was drowned.

The mother was preparing supper for her six children at the time of the accident and fainted. Her husband was killed two months ago.
